Middough Names Joseph Veselka General Manager of Major Projects Group

CLEVELAND, Ohio (December 9, 2014) — Middough Inc., a top ranking U.S. engineering, architecture, and management services company, is pleased to announce the promotion of Joseph Veselka from regional manager to vice president and general manager of the Major Projects Group of the company.

In concert with Middough business leadership Mr. Veselka will direct the strategic and tactical pursuit, planning, and execution of large engineering and EPCM projects for Middough. In his new role he will also take a greater responsibility in the direction of environmental health and safety, offer leadership and training of Middough staff, and oversee major project management, construction management, project controls, cost estimating, procurement, and field engineering resources. Mr. Veselka will continue to play an active role in Middough's Quality Leadership Team serving as group chair for the Middough Project Management Office (PMO) providing guidance and oversight of Middough Project Management tools, work processes, and training.

Mr. Veselka has been with Middough nearly four years. He possesses significant experience in the management of complex projects in the process, industrial, and life science industries. He has led fast-track engineering and construction and turnaround teams to successful completion of projects ranging from $10 million to $600 million in his 30 year career.

“Joe has been instrumental in developing Middough's major project group and associated project management capabilities to date. His collective experience in both the service provider side of the business and the client side coupled with his passion for safety, quality, and performance make him a terrific General Manager fit as Middough continues to grow”, states Carl Wendell, executive vice president and chief operating officer of Middough Inc. “We are glad that Joe can step right up to this leadership position and hit the ground running”, Wendell says.
