Middough Inc. Opens New Houston Office Location

New office positioned to serve clients throughout Gulf Coast Region

CLEVELAND, Ohio (July 27, 2010) — Middough Inc., a top ranking U.S. architectural, engineering and management services company, has recently opened a new office in Houston, TX. The new office will facilitate the company's ability to provide upstream oil and gas, refining and chemical services to clients in the Gulf Coast Region.

Middough provides complete architectural, engineering, procurement, construction management and project management services for the upstream oil and gas, refining and chemical industries. The new office is comprised of experienced professionals with a diversity of engineering disciplines required for projects in these industries.

"Our services cover the entire development life of projects, from initial concept selection and development planning, through basic and detailed engineering, to execution of engineering, procurement and construction management projects," says Paul Riedl, senior vice president. "Our new Houston office will allow us to efficiently meet client needs locally in the Gulf Region."

With the opening of the new Houston office, Middough's broad network of support has grown to include 13 offices with more than 800 employees. Their national presence will allow the company to assist clients with their growth opportunities not only in the Gulf Coast Region, but also nationwide. Middough also provides full services to the Architecture, Industrial, Federal and Local Government and Life Science businesses.

The new Houston office can be found conveniently located adjacent to the new Town and Country City Centre.
